Our school has deep roots

Holy Rosary School was opened in 1940 by the Missionary Sisters of the Holy Rosary. The school stays true to the values of the founding Sisters:
Empower women
Service to Community

These courageous women, gave up their lives in Ireland to come to South Africa for a greater purpose. They came to South Africa to help others. They loved people beyond themselves. They worked the fields and built the school. They achieved a massive lasting legacy - a school that nurtures the girls of today into the women of tomorrow.

We encourage our girls to look beyond themselves.
We see apparently ordinary girls achieve exceptional things.

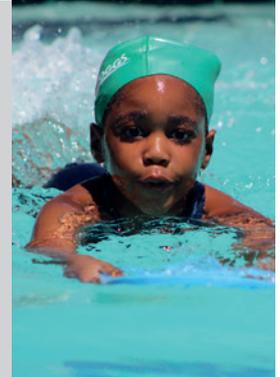

What sort of an adult would you like your child to become?

Your values and character are what stay with you forever

SUCCESS IN LIFE IS EMPTY WITHOUT PEOPLE.

Just cultivating Academic, Sport or Cultural excellence is empty if the girls don't have love for their fellow classmates, community and nation. It's this love-like-a-family that bonds the abilities and talents of the girls, so that they become Holy Rosary girls for life.

Our girls grow into women with ability, courage, integrity, self-confidence and a sense of God in their lives.

Why a Christian School?

Catholic schools are synonymous with quality education. But more than that...

The Catholic faith embraces girls and families from all faiths. We are fortunate to have a diverse group of religions represented within the school. Girls are not required to be Catholic.

Christian schools promote religious and moral formation.

We live in a new world.

Our ability to recall knowledge is being contrasted with the ability to think. We're standing at the edge of massive educational reform. We're unlocking the nature of thinking and how to teach it. The Holy Rosary School culture shapes our girls into women of character who have a sense of service beyond themselves.
